How might we leverage technology to support early literacy?

How could that look in:

- Whole group instruction?
- Small group instruction?
- Independent tasks?
- Assessment?
- REMOTE LEARNING?

Phonological awareness: rhyming, alliteration, sentence segmenting, syllable blending, and segmenting

Phonemic awareness: understanding of the smallest sounds in words

Phonics: Phonics involves the relationship between sounds and written symbols. Phonemic awareness is about sounds in spoken words. Phonics instruction focuses on teaching sound-spelling relationships and is associated with print. Most phonemic awareness tasks are oral.
