

Free Training Sessions with Dr. Reeves from Creative Leadership Solutions

In partnership with Creative Leadership Solutions, CCEE is offering a FREE, three-part synchronous series that will focus on understanding, identifying, evaluating, and applying formative assessment practices to accelerate learning.

Session 1: What Educators and School Leaders Can Do NOW to Accelerate Learning and Improve Assessment, Attendance, Engagement, & Achievement

Many schools are making decisive actions to accelerate learning, improve assessments, attendance, and better engage students. In this session, participants will: 1) learn about effective practices with the greatest impact on student achievement, 2) identify barriers to improved practices, 3) evaluate alternative practices to accelerate learning, and 4) apply the learning to their individual contexts.

Session 2: The New Model of Change Leadership

The global pandemic will continue to affect schools long after schools re-open. Changes will be required in schedules, student support, faculty support, state standards, and assessments. In this session, participants will: 1) learn about the new model of change leadership, 2) identify the failures of previous change leadership models, 3) evaluate alternative leadership practices, and 4) apply the new model of change leadership to their individual contexts.

Session 3: Fearless Schools

The global pandemic has left in its wake traumatized students, families, and educators and fear has been the dominant emotion. The essence of fearless schools is the building of psychologically safe environments where students and educators can learn together, make mistakes with transparency, learn from those mistakes, and engage in consistent innovation, experimentation, and learning. In this session, participants will 1) learn about the impact of psychological safety on learning and leadership, 2) identify the barriers to psychological safety and fearless schools, 3) evaluate alternative practices that lead to or detract from fearless schools, and 4) apply the learning to their individual contexts.
