

COMPASS POINTS

Guiding questions that can be used when working together in learning communities

What are the strengths of your compass point? Weaknesses?

How can people with different compass points complement your natural tendency?

How can being aware of other's "direction" help when preparing to work as a team?

How does your compass point manifest itself when deadlines are approaching?