

REFLECTION TOOL

Dive deeper: How can I learn more about my students?

As described in the module, identity maps can be a great way to learn more about students and yourself. Use the Facing History identity mapping tool to engage in learning more about your students.

Resources: Where can I go for more information?

- Virtual learning tools: <https://ozobot.com/blog/27-tech-tools-teachers-can-use-to-inspire-classroom-creativity>
- Building and supporting curiosity: <https://www.teachthought.com/pedagogy/4-phases-inquiry-based-learning-guide-teachers/>
- Curiosity is the gateway to empathy: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=a-N8MGFPA78>
- The Mask You Live In (documentary): <http://therepresentationproject.org/film/the-mask-you-live-in-film/see-the-film/>
- Culturally Sustaining Pedagogies: <https://www.cde.ca.gov/pd/ee/culturallysustainingped.asp>
- Learning For Justice: <https://www.learningforjustice.org/>
- Note To Educators: Hope Need When Growing Roses in the Concrete: <https://www.sjsu.edu/people/marcos.pizarro/courses/185/s1/DuncanAndradeHOPE.pdf>