

Change from 2019 to 2021 in Percent of Districts with Self-Rating of "Full Implementation" or "Full Implementation and Sustainability" as reported on the California School Dashboard

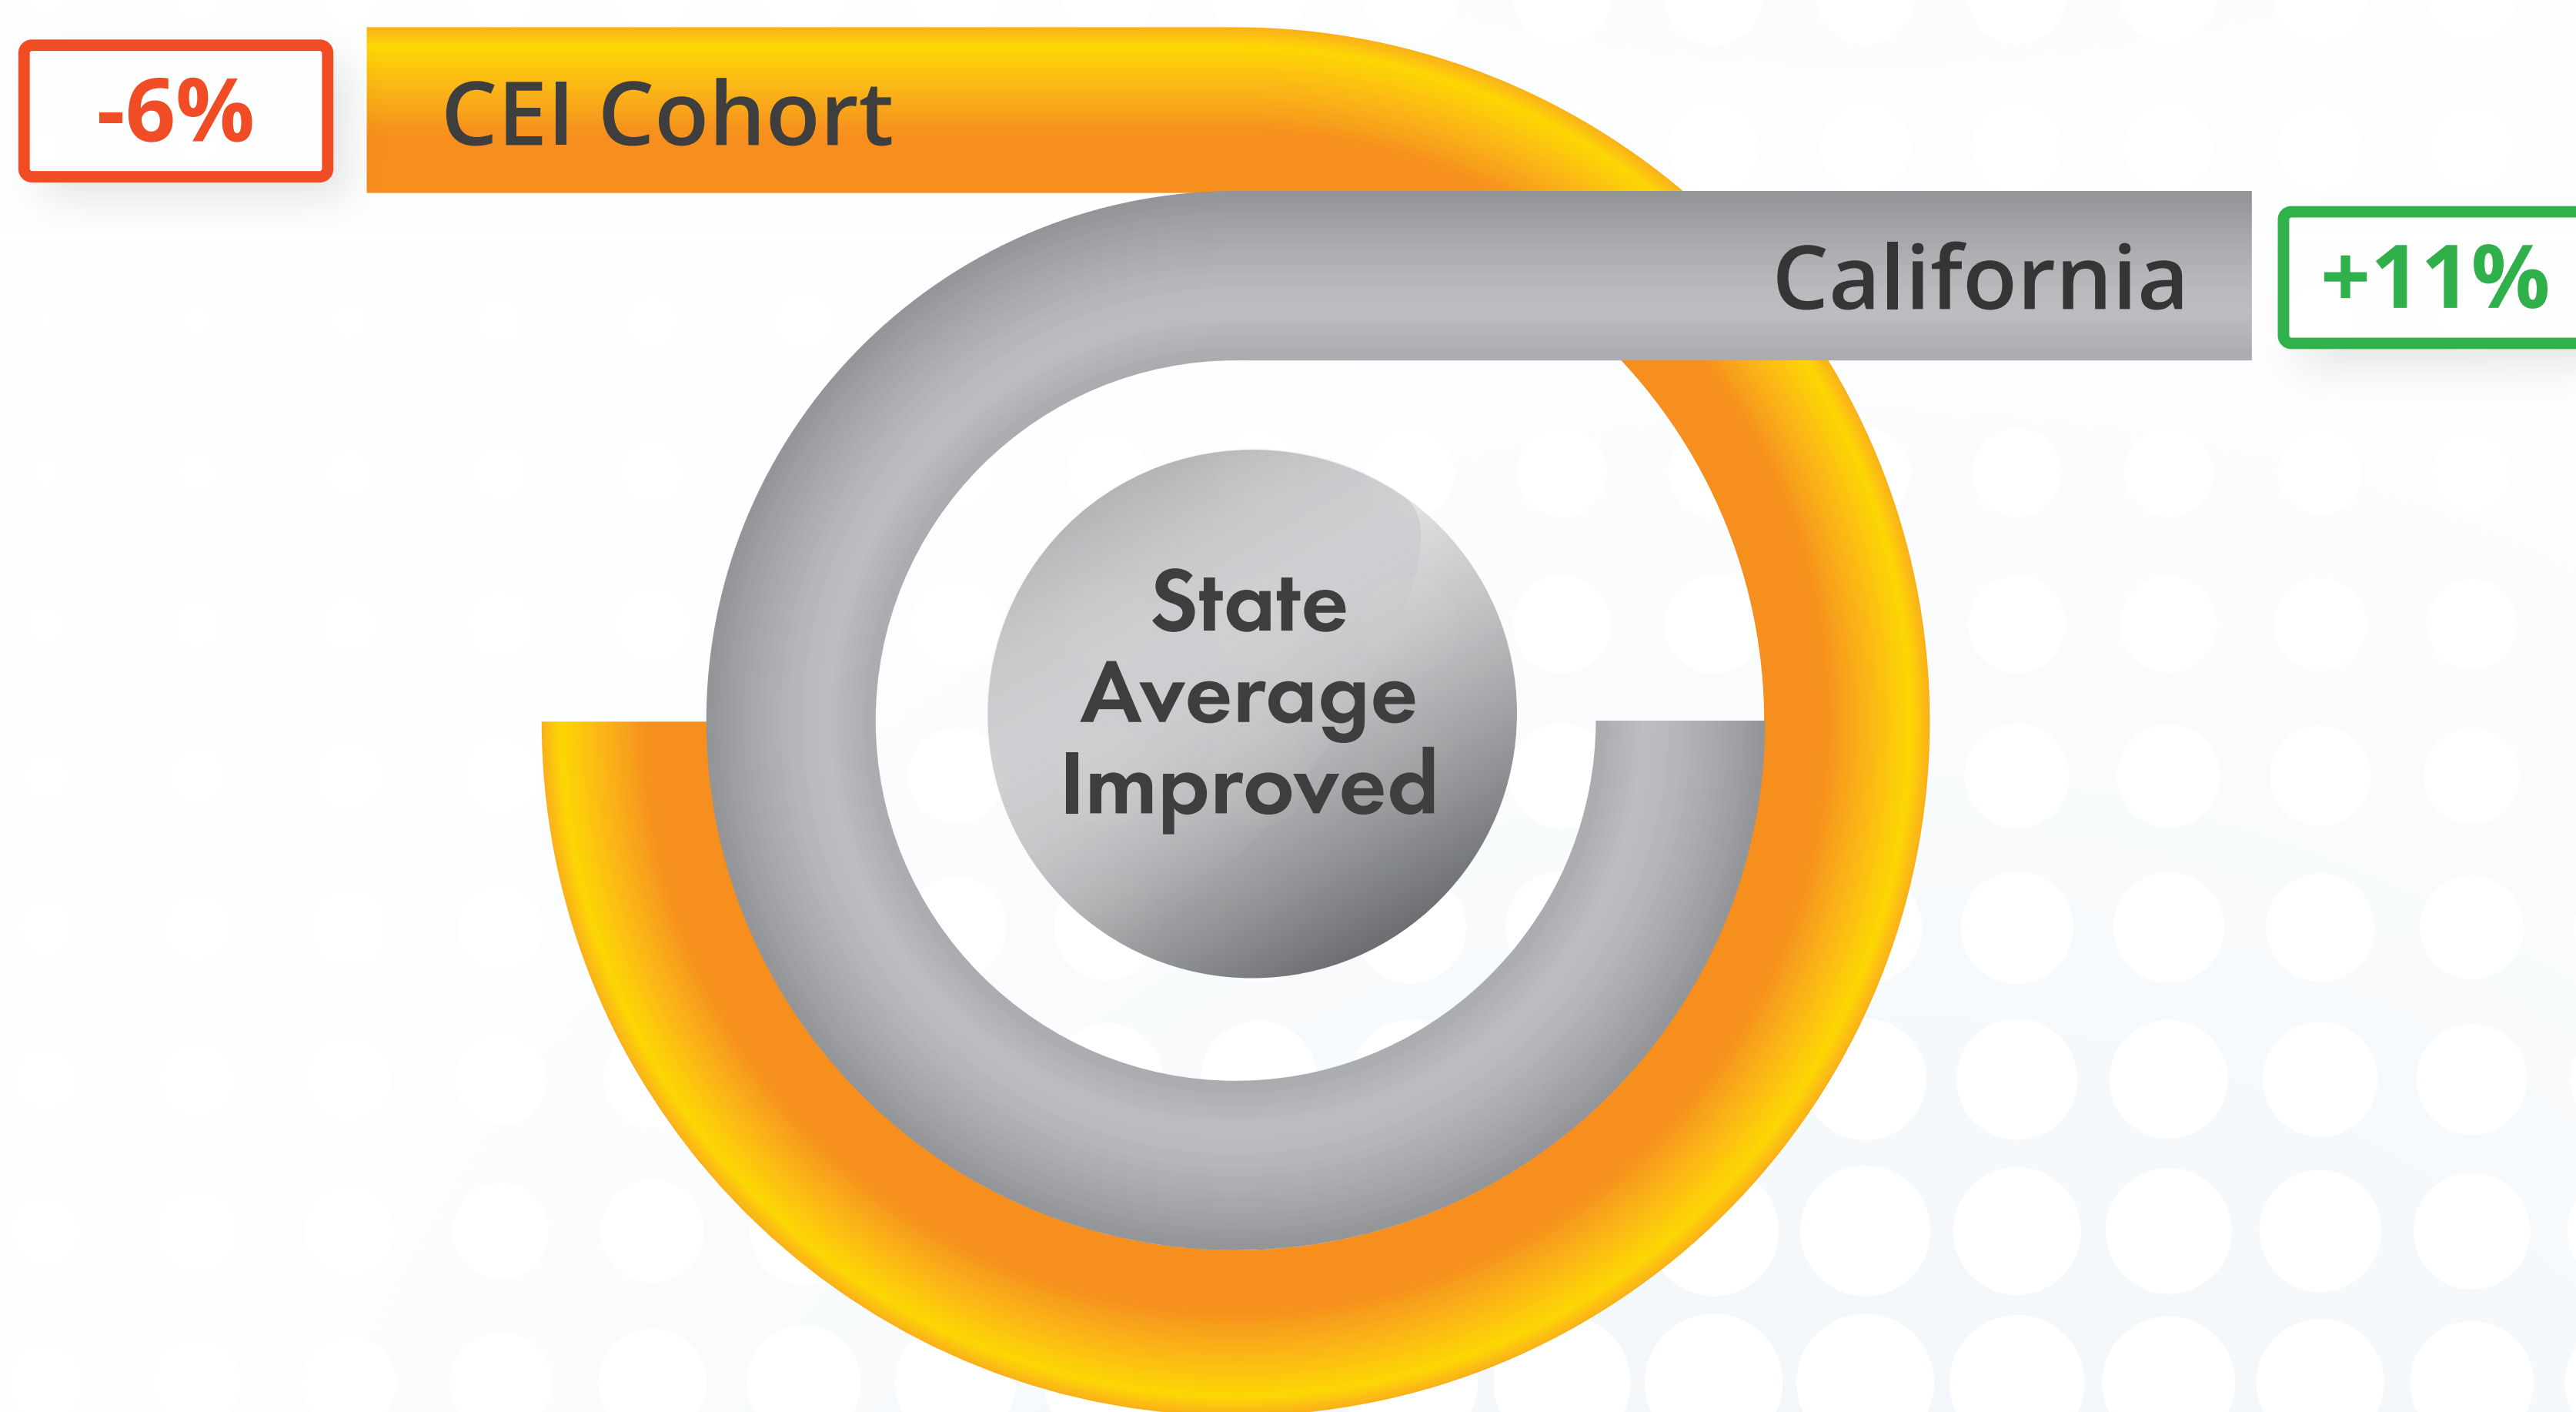

Building Trust and Respect

CEI Cohort districts improved slightly more than the State average in developing staff capacity to build trusting and respectful relationships with families and students.

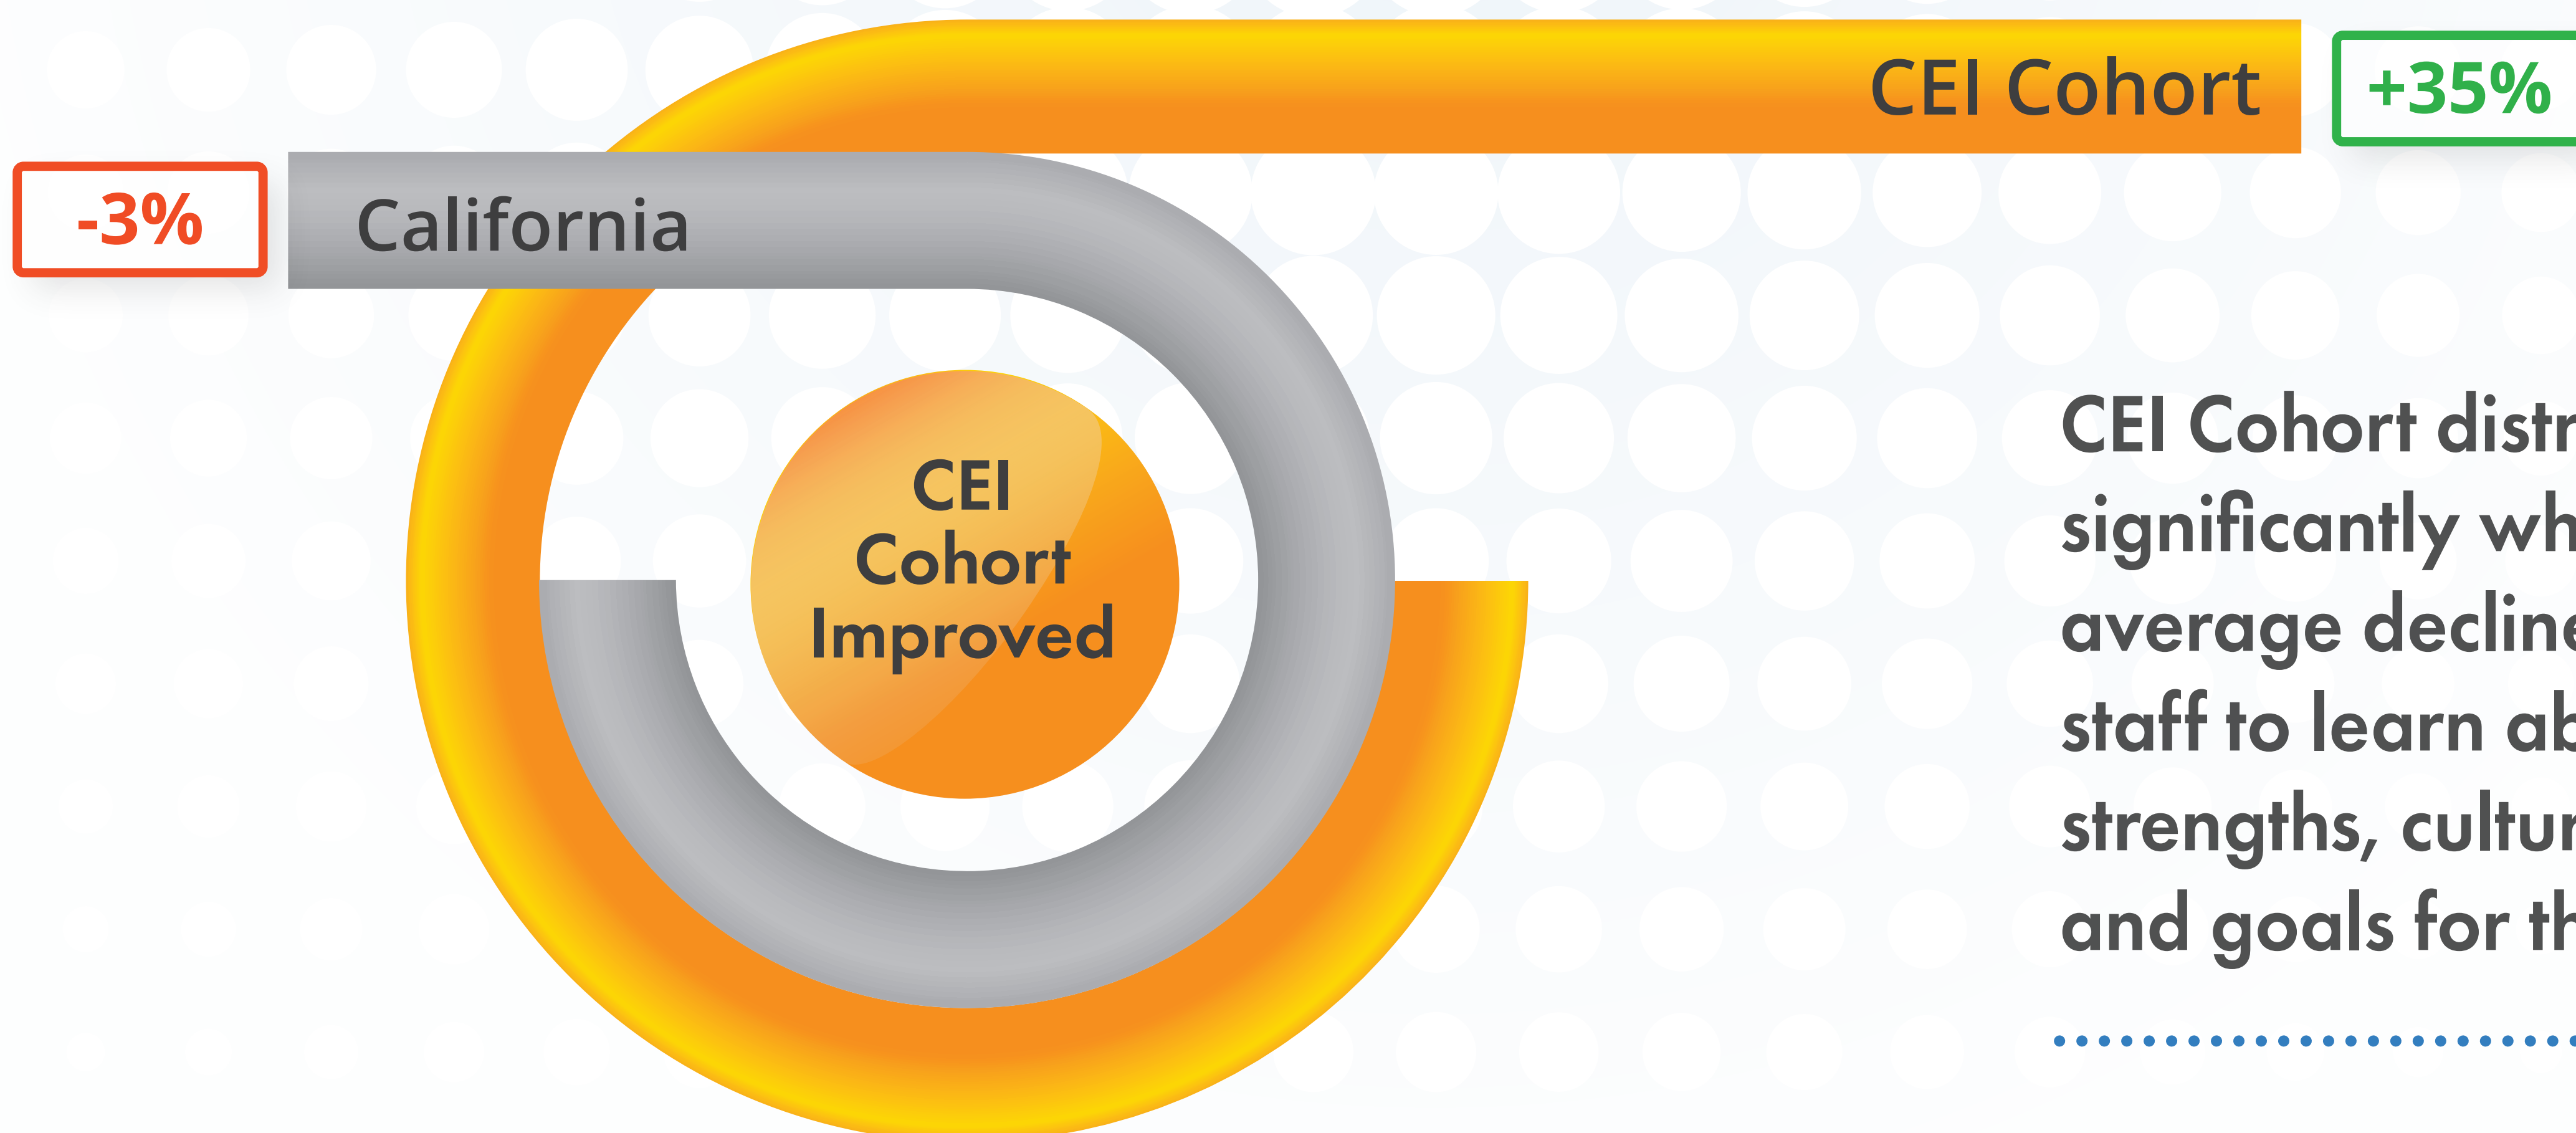

Creating Welcoming Environments

While the State average showed improvements, CEI Cohort districts declined in creating welcoming environments for all families within the community.

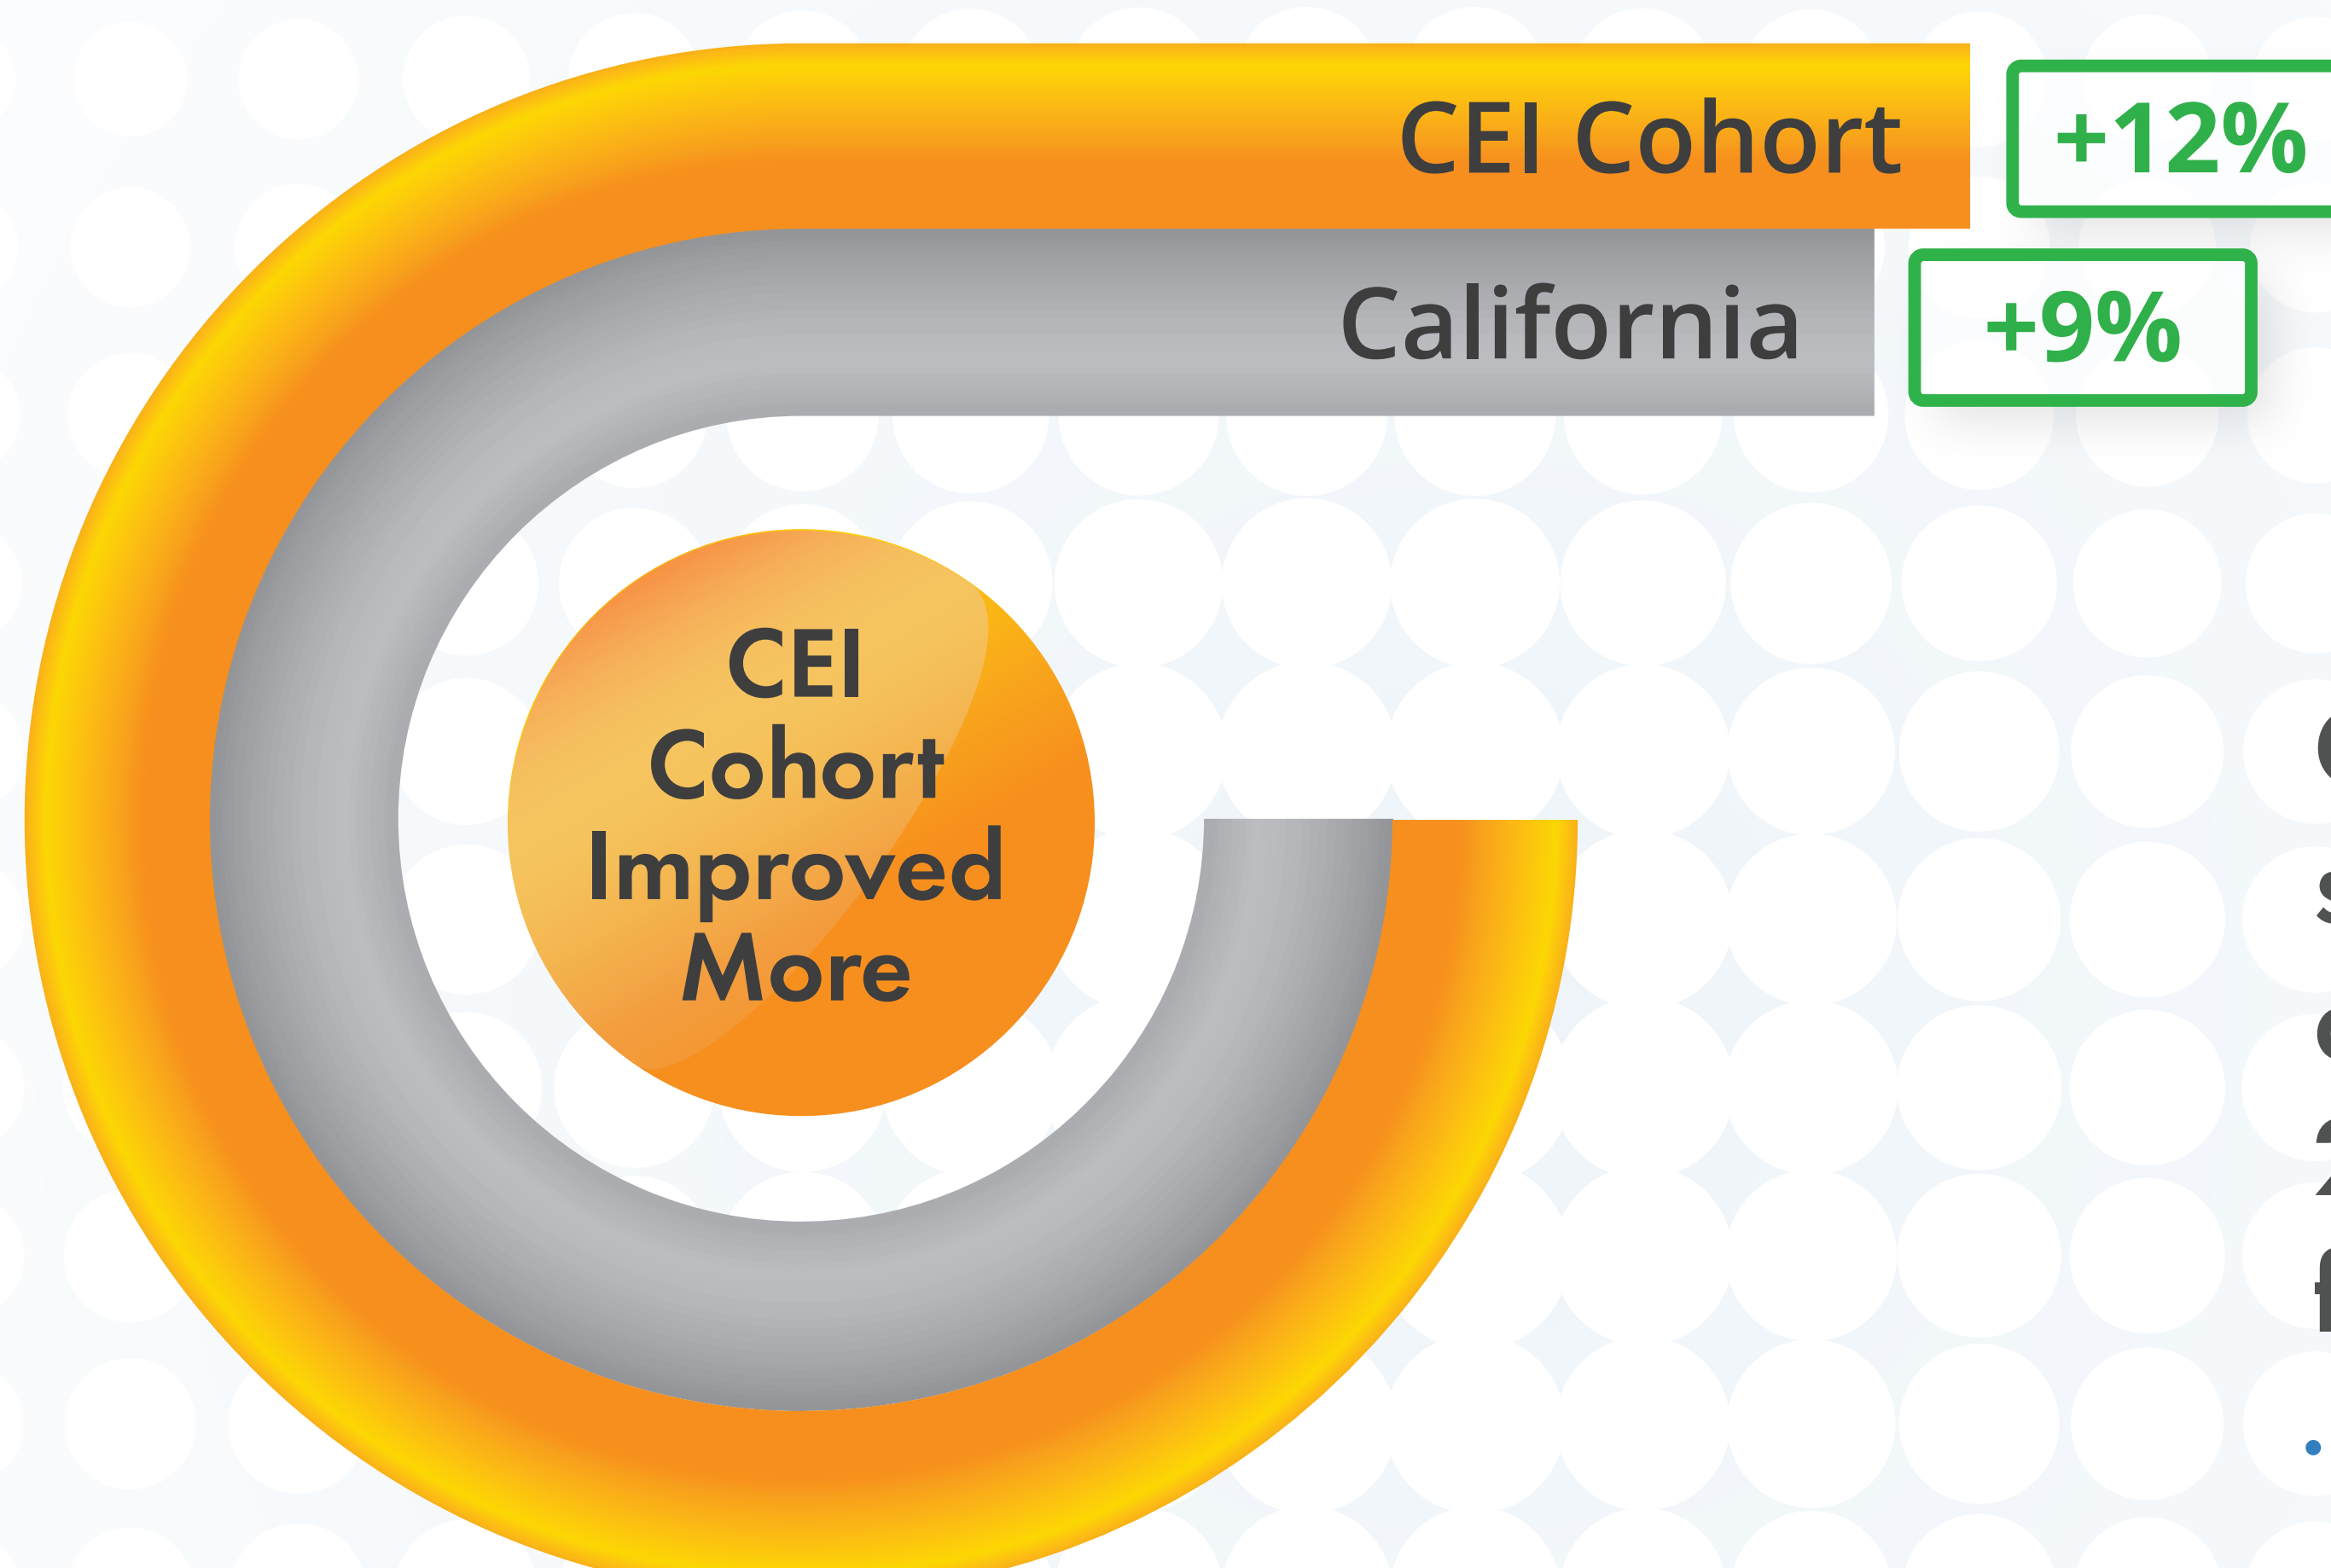

Supporting Staff

CEI Cohort districts improved significantly while the State average declined in supporting staff to learn about family's strengths, cultures, languages, and goals for their children.

Developing Opportunities for Communication

CEI Cohort districts improved slightly more than the State average in developing accessible 2-way communication between families and educators.

Average ratings based on 2019 and 2021 California School Dashboard Local Indicators self-ratings using the 1-5 scale with 1- Exploration and Research Phase; 2 - Beginning Development; 3 Initial Implementation; 4 - Full Implementation; and 5 - Full Implementation and Sustainability"